

1in9 Launches National Roadshow to Combat Kidney Disease

You may be surprised to learn that diabetes and high blood pressure are the two leading causes of kidney failure and each year more deaths are caused by kidney disease than breast cancer or prostate cancer.

Phoenix, AZ (PRWEB) February 12, 2016 -- On Tuesday, February 2nd, an educational roadshow that will make stops in cities across the country, kicked off in Phoenix. It launched the national expansion of a movement called “1in9.” Chronic kidney disease affects 26 million Americans; that is 1 in every 9 adults, and most don’t even realize it. The goal is to create hope and change the trajectory of kidney disease.

Free of charge, attendees of the 1in9 Roadshow will learn about kidney disease prevention, awareness, treatments, and health screenings.

The American Academy and Board of Regenerative Medicine (AABRM) is partnering with this project and will share news on innovative advancements for kidney disease and related diseases such as diabetes and cardiovascular disease.

The 1in9 movement also includes a documentary that will chronicle Raymond Scott’s 18-year journey, from kidney failure starting at the age of 29 to and through his competition at the 10th anniversary of Dancing with the Stars, AZ benefitting the National Kidney Foundation of AZ and follow Raymond and his wife Analyn as they travel and speak to groups across the United States.

1in9 Founder Analyn Scott shared, “1in9 is honored and proud to partner with the AABRM to highlight and support the great work they are doing and educate the public on what the future holds in the fight against kidney disease.”

“The American Academy and Board of Regenerative Medicine strongly supports 1in9’s efforts to raise awareness and promote action related to chronic kidney disease. We are excited about this partnership and the prospects of finding better answers for this debilitating disease.” - Dr. med. Christian Paulus, AABRM CEO

About 1in9

The mission of 1in9 is to ignite a worldwide movement to promote awareness and prevention campaigns, as well as support expedited research and development of treatment options being developed in the field of Regenerative Medicine. Visit <http://www.1in9kidneychallenge.com> for more information.

About AABRM

AABRM is a multidisciplinary community of physicians and scientists with a mission to advance the science, technology and practice of Regenerative Medicine to treat disease and lessen human suffering. The AABRM advances the specialty of Regenerative Medicine and serves its members. The AABRM is a non-profit 501(c) 3 corporation. Visit <http://www.aabrm.org> for more information.

Contact Information

Analyn Scott

1in9

<http://www.1in9kidneychallenge.com>

+1 (602) 430-7090

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.